

JENISE BRAKUS

address

45663 Kautzer Avenue,
Houston, TX

tel +1 (555) 567 6761

Experience

Doyle, Hoeger and Bayer

Detroit, MI || Apparel Developer || 02/2019 – present

- Activate cost benchmarking activities especially for high volume styles to achieve FOB competitiveness
- Good knowledge in products' development
- Proficiency in MS office, especially advanced in Excel
- Responsible to prepare, maintain and follow up on all necessary documents (style specifications, size tables, fabrics and trim selection, fitting and sealing comments) through the development process
- Degree in Garment / Fashion/Clothing
- Relevant experience in garment/sportswear industry

Zemlak, Casper and Vandervort

Detroit, MI || Apparel Developer || 10/2014 – 08/2018

- Works with Product Managers and Sourcing teams to calculate target costing from initial line plans to direct FOB and gross margin targets
- For specific categories, will lead the development process to achieve commercial feasibility of designs through collaboration with Design, Product Managers and Technical Design teams
- Provides feedback to Product Managers, Design Teams and Tech Design on relevant product issues such as production technology or changes that impact cost or quality
- Develops and maintains vendor relationships and regional development strategies

Education

Savannah College of Art and Design

Collage in Education

Skills

- Responsible for awareness, reporting and support of Buy Ready gates and exceptions including but not limited to; cost/margin, fit, color, prints, print, testing and fabric/trim approvals
- Other related duties
- Bachelor's degree in Manufacturing, Textiles, Apparel Merchandising or Business Administration. An advanced degree would be
- Minimum of 3-5 years' experience in Product Development and Sourcing
- Perform in a fast-paced, goals-oriented, and time-sensitive environment. Strong Computer skills including Microsoft Office (WORD, EXCEL, etc.)