Project Undertaken

Project Title	: Commodities Comparison of Spot and Future Markets with Reference to Non Precious & Precious Metal Commodities
Client	: India Infoline Ltd., Shivaji Nagar, Vishakapatnam.
Designation	: Project trainee
Duration	: 45 Days
Synopsis	: The primary objective of the course study is to understand the process of selecting commodities for investments. The study helps in analyzing the profitability of the particular commodity through implementation of various financial tools and techniques such as Calculation of Returns and Risk earned by the particular stock. The various methods and graphs available to analyze the trends of commodities are studied through commodities comparison. Here the spot and Future markets data of particular commodities are collected to observe the trends in the prices of commodities which help to predict the future price movements over the exchange.
